There will be services in Immanuel Church at 8 p. m., at the close of which a congregational meeting will be held for the purpose of electing a pastor. At the Southern Methodist Church Rev. E. A. ALEXANDRIAN AT A BANQUET.

The Business Science Club of Alameda county, Cal., gave a banquet recently at which speeches were made by a number of members. Mr. R. H. Atkinson, jr., a native of this city, but now one of the managers of the Sheldon School (correspondence instruction) in Oakland, Cal., who attended the banquet, and who had the affair in charge, said:

"The speakers who proceeded me, called themselves gals of various sizes, even down to the Chinese match. Of course, I appreciate the fact it is modesty that prevents them from referring to themselves at their true caliber, as we know, judging from what they have done, that they are all big guns. Now gentlemen, gals are for a purpose. That purpose is to hit a target, and I wish to speak of the target. The target every one of us should have is an ideal, and the higher the ideal the larger the gun required to hit the mark, and it is by developing ourselves into bigger guns that we come nearer to our ideal. Every man should have an ideal. I know of some who are satisfied to take life as it comes but they never amount to anything. We have to use our imagination to picture before us an ideal and then have faith in the ideal, faith in ourselves to attain it, and faith in the road we select, and the larger the ideal the more we can attain. Some men accomplish more because they try for more; therefore, let us, one and all, place before us the high ideal that we are capable of conceiving, and strive to attain it; and as we grow stronger and more powerful, and approach nearer to that ideal, a larger field is open to us, and our opportunities are greater, and you can well rest assured, that all the opportunities between your high ideal and the point you start, will be yours."

ALEXANDRIAN KILLED.

A dispatch was received in this city yesterday evening from Andover, N. J., stating that Mr. John G. Wiley, a well-known resident of Alexandria, had died from a fall at that place. Mr. Wiley was a bridge carpenter by occupation, and while superintending the erection of a structure at Andover Thursday morning was struck by a falling piece of timber and knocked to the ground. In his fall his head struck against a rock which fractured his skull. He was picked up and taken to a hospital, but failed to recover consciousness, and his death soon followed. Mr. Wiley was 49 years old. He leaves three children, one son and two daughters. He resided at No. 123 Prince street. The deceased, it will be remembered, fell from the roof of the plant of the Bryant Fertilizer Company in this city some time ago and was seriously injured. The body of Mr. Wiley was brought to this city this morning and taken to his late home, 122 Prince street.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Two white boys, charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed with an admonition. Rafford Johnson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5. William Ford, colored, charged with assaulting Lucinda Ford, had his case continued.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

Among the cases in the Police Court this morning was that of two small boys who were charged with disorderly conduct on Fairfax street, near King. The accused gave vent to weeping and wailing during the examination of the case. Justice Caton, after delivering a serious lecture to the accused in which he dwelt upon the errors of the reform school, dismissed the youngsters.

OPERA HOUSE.

This is the last night of the greatest of all vaudeville performances which have appeared at the Opera House. There may be many more shows there this season—and good ones, too—but none that will excel in quality the company which has held forth the past week. If the amusement lover wants to be entertained he can find said entertainment at the Opera House tonight. As an afterpiece that screaming farce comedy will be presented—"A Night in a Mad House."

MEADE CHAPEL.

Rev. J. F. Mitchell (colored), at Meade Chapel, Alexandria, is laboring with all his might to replace the present small and dilapidated building with one worthy of the cause and the great work of the locality is capable. The committee in charge of the building fund have in hand between five and six hundred dollars. Over three thousand dollars are needed. "The people have a mind to work" and are doing all they can. [Southern Churchman.]

MARS PLAINLY VISIBLE.

The planet Mars may be seen in the eastern sky these nights. It is plainly visible shortly after twilight and toward midnight it crosses over to the southern part of the heavens and is of intense brilliancy about 12 or 1 o'clock. Mars is coming closer and closer to the earth and astronomers are studying the planet as never before. It is only about forty million miles away.

"THE FINAL SETTLEMENT."

What is conceded to be one of the most powerful American dramas written in recent years is Lem B. Parker's romance of a phase of life in our rich class entitled, "The Final Settlement," which comes to the Opera House next Monday night. The theme of the story is daring and sensational, and attacks the members of society who seek recourse to the divorce courts to relieve themselves of undesirable mates. The climaxes and situations are startling and spontaneous and the story is well told and consistent. The company is headed by Miss Marion Sherwood and is one of unusual excellence, and manager Van Matre promises a first class production.

Springfield Daily News—A far better play than almost anything else seen here this season.

Louisville Courier Journal—One of the best, if not the best of the season's dramatic offerings.

Omaha Bee—A play of genuine merit with strong dramatic situations and an excellent company to interpret them.

Louisville Post—A gripping play of genuine merit—belongs to the same class of plays as "The Man of the Hour" and "The Lion and the Mouse," and does not suffer by comparison.

INQUEST ADJOURNED.

Dr. S. B. Moore, the coroner, summoned a jury for the purpose of holding an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning over the body of Melissa Piper, colored, who fell overboard from the scow Lily of the West early yesterday morning and was drowned. The jury was composed of Messrs. R. W. Oline, P. C. Timberman, M. Morris, Edgar Warfield, jr., W. S. Schoen and M. T. Dwyer, and they met at Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment, but in the absence from the city of the three colored men who were aboard the scow at the time of the drowning the inquest was adjourned subject to the call of the coroner.

WANT LABORERS.

Work on the West street sewer is progressing slowly from the fact that it is impossible to procure laborers. Men are paid $1.50 per day for their services. Sometime ago when some Italians were employed on street work in Alexandria a hue and cry was raised and the foreigners were eventually discharged. The need of laborers is now urgent, and those native and to the manner born refuse to work.

The contract for furnishing hay and straw for Fort Hunt for the coming year has been awarded the enterprising firm of T. F. Burroughs, Son & Co., of this city, who have recently established a handsome milling plant on the strand, between King and Prince streets.

Walter Brown, who conducted the picnic of Ebenezer Baptist Church, colored, at St. Asaph, last Thursday night, says there was no disorderly conduct there on that occasion, and denies that a man shot a hat from a colored woman's hand. He says the only shooting there was in the shooting gallery.

Albert Edward Moreng is the youngest son of Lord "Monty" Moreng, a peer in the house of parliament. There wasn't much for Albert Edward to do in England, so he packed up his tooth brush and his mail file and embarked for America. Here's an extract from his first letter home: "Bih love, don't cherno, the very first thing that struck me eye when I landed in this blasted country was the wonderful vitality of the natives. So different from dear old England, don't cherno. But I later found out 'twas because everybody goes to the Auto Stand for those irresistibly delicious Auto Products; simply h'extraordinary, bah love." Sylvan Blomfield, the Auto Stand, City Market.
